I just have to say that video from Suzan Tisdale was about as good an idea as Faleena's cockygate video and what's-her-name's video about why she deserved to be a RITA finalist.

I don't know why people think that live videos are actually going to do a better job of communicating anything other than their actual views.

I couldn't finish the damn video, but did she seriously bring up the K-Mart thing as if it were this intense gotcha when Sue was the fucking book buyer at Borders and we all know it? Did she ever address that, or did she just pretend that never happened?

For the record, Sue was always very nice to me, but she did send me harem books and ask if I'd be interested in blurbing them, and I think it takes an INTENSE lack of...something to do that.

As @RhondaMerwarth mentioned, it's not entirely surprising that Suzan is tight with Catherine.
